Portraits – E.P.I.C. Store Owners Tristan Scott And Rhianon Jones

by christina

Occupation: Store Owners

Address: Echo Park Independent Co-op (E.P.I.C.), 1712 Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles, CA 90026

Why we like them: It's daring to have such an "editorial" selection of merchandise in your store (the kinds of pieces that show up in the fashion pages of magazines) so we applaud the courage—and great taste—of this Echo Park duo. And to heighten the stakes even more, the boutique carries almost exclusively LA designers. Le Sang Des Betes, Brian Lichtenberg, Skingraft, The Battalion, Laura Kranitz, Cirque du Cheval, and many more are proving how much local talent we actually have. Some questions with Tristan and Rhianon after the jump.

Where are you from?

Tristan: The Santa Cruz/Monterey area of Northern California.

Rhianon: I moved down here from Portland six years ago.

How long have you lived here?

Tristan: Five years.

Rhianon: Six years.

Where do you live in LA?

Tristan: Angelino Heights (a historical sub neighborhood of Echo Park).

Rhianon: I live on 3rd and La Brea.

What do you like best about the neighborhood you live in?

Tristan: The sense of community, the creative bohemian spirit and the ability to walk everywhere.

Rhianon: I can walk to my sister's house, and the health food store. And the ice cream shop.

Favorite thing to do in Los Angeles:

Tristan: Hike in Griffith Park. Sit on my balcony and read. Getting drinks with friends at the Cha Cha — one of my favorite bars with the best staff in town.

Rhianon: Hang out with my friends, usually in Echo Park.

What do you like most about your job?

Tristan: The ability to showcase the talent that Los Angeles has to offer and the opportunity to meet new people in my neighborhood and in the artistic community.

Rhianon: I like the idea that we are supporting local artists and educating designers and customers about sustainable materials and production processes.

Epic is such a great store. So many great pieces you can not find anywhere else in the world.
